

Abstract :

The software comprises of the dynamic financial accounting spreadsheet; providing complete, sufficient, reconciled and correct financial report and the schools of thinking; means to interpret the business information. It provides user the capability to illustrate real, possible and potential management initiatives. It overviews business picture and focuss on details and is able to be tailor-maded upon usage requirement and preference. The dynamic financial accounting spreadsheet, the money component, works as gauges, illustrating other five business components; market, man, management, method and machine. The software groups and shows the business information in its proper place, providing user the full capacity and capability to perform intuitions and initiatives correctly. It enables user to balance, harmonize and synergize all business components, resulting in slimming and healthy business and being positioned and performing properly. The software is the management tool to help react to the global flux correctly and fast.

00732534.071101